

POV-K9 (Point of View-Canine)

Weary of the corporate rat race? A dog's view that will change your life in 10 minutes

Career-minded Sara is a workaholic writer climbing the promotion ladder at an ad agency, spending her pressure-filled days sweating out presentations to Fortune 500 clients.

Ben is her playful trusty golden retriever mix of a dog, spending his days breaking out from his yard fence and frolicking with his friends on the banks of a scenic river.

The movie compares the events of a day in their lives largely through the eyes and the point of view of the dog Ben.

When Sara suddenly loses her job, she is afforded a glimpse of Ben's world. For the first time, she experiences nature, wildlife and a sense of peace.

Unexpectedly, Sara's promotion appears within reach; but as she launches back into her hectic life, tragedy strikes. In the end, Sara's true aspirations are illuminated by the insights of Ben.
